Here is your opportunity to own a turnkey silicon wafer production facility. The company is well established with decades in the business. This 20,000+ sf total facility has an ISO 9001 certification to service a diversified and international customer base. Recent equipment upgrades and additions keeps this production plant humming along to modern standards. Management, technical sales and trained machine operators are in place for a smooth transition. This is an excellent opportunity to take advantage of an industry wide wafer shortage and capitalized on recent government incentives (ex. CHIP funding).
