This profitable and unique business offers upgrades, repairs, refurbishing and resale of critical semiconductor test equipment no longer supported by OEMs. With 32 years in Silicon Valley, the company has built strong relationships and goodwill with local suppliers and clients as well as overseas customers. There is tremendous growing potential as every major US semiconductor maker is a client as well as several semiconductor manufacturers in Far East and Europe. Business is operated without employees. The owner is motivated to sell in order to retire. 8 weeks of training is included and extended technical consulting is available. SBA loan pre-qualified. BTI#11607
